4.0 Background

Early childhood services are obligated by law, service agreements and licensing requirements to comply with the privacy and health records legislation when collecting personal and health information about individuals.

The Health Records Act 2001 (Part 1, 7.1) and the Privacy and Data Collection Act 2014 (Vic) (Part 1, 6 (1))) include a clause that overrides the requirements of these Acts if they conflict with other Acts or Regulations already in place. For example, if there is a requirement under the Education and Care Services National Law Act 2010 or the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 that is inconsistent with the requirements of the privacy legislation, services are required to abide by the Education and Care Services National Law Act 2010 and the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011.

In line with the Victorian Government's Roadmap for Reform, Education State reforms and broader child safety initiatives, Part 6A of the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act 2005 (the Act) was proclaimed in September 2018. The Act established the Child Information Sharing (CIS) Scheme, which enables sharing of confidential information between prescribed entities in a timely and effective manner to promote the wellbeing and safety of children. The Act also authorised the development of a web-based platform that will display information about children's participation in services known as the Child Link Register (to become operational by December 2021). The Child Link Register aims to improve child wellbeing and safety outcomes, monitor, and support the participation in government-funded programs and services for children in Victoria.

Alongside the CIS Scheme, the Family Violence Protection Act 2008 includes the Family Violence Information Sharing (FVIS) Scheme and the Family Violence Multi-Agency Risk Assessment and Management (MARAM) Framework, which enables information to be shared between prescribed entities to assess and manage family violence risk to children and adults. The MARAM Framework can be used by all services including ECEC services that meet individuals and families experiencing family violence. The MARAM Framework aims to establish a system-wide shared understanding of family violence. It guides professionals across the continuum of service responses, across the range of presentations and spectrum of risk. It provides information and resources that professionals need to keep victim survivors safe, and to keep perpetrators in view and hold them accountable for their actions.

5.0 Definitions

Child Information Sharing Scheme (CISS): enables Information Sharing Entities (ISE) to share confidential information about any person to promote the wellbeing and/or safety of a child or group of children. The CISS works in conjunction with existing information sharing legislative provisions. All Victorian children from birth to 18 years of age are covered. Unborn children are only captured when there has been a report to Child First or Child Protection. Consent is not required from any person when sharing under CISS. The CISS does not affect reporting obligations created under other legislation, such as mandatory reporting obligations under the Children, Youth and Families Act 2005.

Child Safe Standards: Promotes the safety of children, prevent child abuse, and ensure organisations have effective processes in place to respond to and report all allegations of child abuse.

Confidential Information: For the purposes of this policy, the CISS and FVISS, the health information and identifiers for the Health Records Act 2001 and the personal information for the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014, including sensitive information (such as a criminal record), and unique identifiers.

Data Breach: Unauthorised access or disclosure of personal information, or loss of personal information.

Disclosure: In the context of the Schemes, this is defined as sharing confidential information for the purpose of promoting the wellbeing or safety of a child or group of children. In the context of family violence, this is defined as when someone tells another person about violence that they have experienced, perpetrated, or witnessed.

Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme (FVISS): enables the sharing of relevant information between authorised organisations to assess or manage risk of family violence.

Freedom of Information Act 1982 (Vic): legislation regarding access and correction of information requests.

Health Information: any information or an opinion about the physical, mental, or psychological health or ability (at any time) of an individual.

Health Records Act 2001: state legislation that regulates the management and privacy of health information handled by public and private sector bodies in Victoria.

Identifier/Unique Identifier: a symbol or code (usually a number) assigned by an organisation to an individual to distinctively identify that individual while reducing privacy concerns by avoiding use of the person's name.

Information Sharing Entities (ISE): are authorised to share and request relevant information under the Child Information Sharing Scheme and the Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme (the Schemes) and required to respond to requests from other ISEs. All ISEs are mandated to respond to all requests for information.

Multi-Agency Risk Assessment and Management Framework (MARAM): Sets out the responsibilities of the organisation in identifying, assessing, and managing families and guide information sharing under both CIS and FVIS schemes wherever family violence is present.

Notifiable Data Breaches Scheme (NDB): a Commonwealth scheme that ensures any organisation or agency covered by the Privacy Act 1988 notifies affected individuals and the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner (OAIC) when a data breach is likely to result in serious harm to an individual whose personal information is involved.

Personal Information: recorded information (including images) or opinion, whether true or not, about a living individual whose identity can reasonably be ascertained.

Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014: State legislation that provides for responsible collection and handling of personal information in the Victorian public sector, including some organisations, such as early childhood services contracted to provide services for government. It provides remedies for interferences with the information privacy of an individual and establishes the Commissioner for Privacy and Data Protection.

Privacy Act 1988: Commonwealth legislation that operates alongside state or territory Acts and makes provision for the collection, holding, use, correction, disclosure, or transfer of personal information. The Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012 (Cth) introduced from 12 March 2014 has made extensive amendments to the Privacy Act 1988. Organisations with a turnover of $3 million per annum or more must comply with these regulations.

Privacy Breach: an act or practice that interferes with the privacy of an individual by being contrary to, or inconsistent with, one or more of the information Privacy Principles (refer to Attachment 2: Privacy principles in action) or the new Australian Privacy Principles (Attachment 7) or any relevant code of practice.

Public Records Act 1973 (Vic): legislation regarding the management of public sector documents.

Risk Assessment Entity (RAE): Under FVISS, there is also a subset of specialist ISEs known as Risk Assessment Entities that can receive and request information for a family violence assessment purpose. RAEs have specialised skills and authorisation to conduct family violence risk assessment, examples can include but not limited to Victorian Police, child protection, family violence service and some Orange Door services.

Sensitive Information: information or an opinion about an individual's racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, membership of a political association, religious beliefs or affiliations, philosophical beliefs, membership of a professional or trade association, membership of a trade union, sexual preference or practices, or criminal record. This is also considered to be personal information.

ATTACHMENT 1. RECORD KEEPING AND PRIVACY LAWS

Early childhood services must ensure that their processes for the collection, storage, use, disclosure, and disposal of personal, sensitive and health information meet the requirements of the appropriate privacy legislation and the Health Records Act 2001.

The following are examples of records impacted by the privacy legislation:

- Enrolment records: Regulations 160, 161 and 162 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 detail the information that must be kept on a child's enrolment record, including personal details about the child and the child's family, parenting orders and medical conditions. This information is classified as personal, sensitive and health information and must be stored securely and disposed of appropriately.
- Attendance records: Regulation 158 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 requires details of the date, child's full name, times of arrival and departure, and signature of the person delivering and collecting the child or the Nominated Supervisor/educator, to be recorded in an attendance record kept at the service. Contact details may be kept in a sealed envelope at the back of the attendance record or separate folder for evacuation/emergency purposes.
- Medication records and incident, injury, trauma, and illness records: Regulations 87 and 92 of the Education and Care Services National Regulations 2011 require the Approved Provider of a service to maintain incident, injury, trauma and illness records, and medication records which contain personal and health information about the child.
- Handling and storage of information: Limited space can often be an issue in early childhood service environments, and both authorised employees and the Approved Provider need access to secure storage for personal and health information. Documents might be required to be stored off the service premises. Wherever confidential information is stored, it is important that it is not accessible to unauthorised staff or other persons. When confidential information is required to be taken off-site (e.g., on excursions, a list of children with medical conditions and contact numbers will be required), consideration must be given to how this is transported and stored securely.
- Electronic records: It is important that electronic records containing personal, sensitive or health information are stored in password protect folders or software platforms and can only be accessed by authorised personnel. Services need to incorporate risk management measures to ensure that passwords are recorded and stored in a secure folder at the service, and to limit access to the information only to other authorised persons.
- Forms: Enrolment forms and any other forms used to collect personal, or health information should have the service's Privacy Statement (refer to Attachment 4) attached.
- Collecting information for which there is no immediate use: A service should only collect the information it needs and for which it has a specific purpose. Services should not collect information that has no immediate use, even though it may be useful in the future.

Attachment 7 – SHARING INFORMATION UNDER THE CISS AND FVSS

This attachment has been developed based on the Information Sharing and Family Violence Reforms Contextualised Guidance for centre-based education and care services.

Applying the threshold test

Before sharing information with other Information Sharing Entities (ISE)'s the threshold test requirements must be met.

The requirements for sharing are different depending on the purpose of the sharing, if sharing for both purposes (Child Wellbeing or Safety and/or Family Violence), you must meet the requirements of each of the schemes.

Although child wellbeing and safety takes precedence over an individual's privacy, privacy must still be protected through careful and selective information sharing.

Threshold requirements for the Child Information Sharing Scheme:

1	The information sharing entity is requesting or disclosing confidential information about any person for the purpose of promoting the wellbeing or safety of a child or group of children; and
2	The disclosing information sharing entity reasonably believes that sharing the confidential information may assist the receiving information sharing entity to carry out one or more of the following activities: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • make a decision, an assessment or a plan relating to a child or group of children • initiate or investigate relating to a child or group of children • provide a service relating to a child or group of children • manage any risk to a child or group of children
3	The information being disclosed or requested is not known to be 'excluded information' under Part 6A of the Child Wellbeing and Safety Act (and is not restricted from sharing by another law), information that could: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • endanger a person's life or result in physical injury • prejudice a police investigation or interfere with the enforcement or administration of the law; prejudice a coronial inquest; prejudice a fair trial of a person • be legally privileged • reveal a confidential police source • contravene a court order • be contrary to the public interest • information sharing would contravene another law.

Threshold requirements for the Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme:

1	The purpose of sharing is to assess family violence risk OR protect victim survivors from family violence risk. There are two purposes for which information can be shared between ISEs: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Family violence assessment purpose: the purpose of establishing or assessing the risk of a person committing family violence or being the subject of family violence. This would include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ○ establishing family violence risk ○ assessing the risk to the victim survivor ○ correctly identifying the perpetrator. ○ Family violence protection purpose: once family violence risk is established, to manage the risk to the victim survivor. This includes information sharing to support ongoing risk assessment.
2	The applicable consent requirements are met. Is the consent required when a child is at risk of family violence? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Consent is not required from any person to share information relevant to assessing or managing family violence risk to a child. However, you should seek the views of the child and non-violent family members where it is safe, reasonable, and appropriate to do so. • Where a student is 18 years of age or older, they are an adult and so you may need their consent to share their information, or the information of third parties, unless you can legally share under existing privacy laws or when there is a child at risk. • In situations where an adolescent is using family violence against an adult family member, you may need the consent of the adult victim survivor to share their information.
3	The information is not excluded information. Excluded information is information that could: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • endanger a person's life or result in physical injury • prejudice a police investigation or interfere with the enforcement or administration of the law; prejudice a coronial inquest; prejudice a fair trial of a person be legally privileged • reveal a confidential police source • contravene a court order • be contrary to the public interest • information sharing would contravene another law.

Making a request to another Information Sharing Entity

Before disclosing information under the Child Information Sharing Scheme and Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme, it is important that information sharing entities take reasonable care to verify the identity of the professional or service and ensure that they are an information sharing entity.

- The ISE list is a searchable database that can be used to identify organisation and services prescribed under the CISS and FIVSS
- Before making a request, check the organisation is a prescribed entity via the Access the ISE list
- Refer to Information Sharing Entity List Uses Guide on how to navigate the database.
- ISE's should respond to requests for information in a timely manner, including when they are declining to provide information in response to the request.
- If an ISE is declining a request from another ISE, they must provide written reasons for doing so.

Making a request or receiving a request under the Child Information Sharing Scheme

An ISE may request information when it meets the first and third parts of the threshold. That is, the information being requested is:

- to promote the wellbeing or safety of a child or group of children
- not excluded information under the Child Information Sharing Scheme to their knowledge.

ISE should use professional judgement to decide which organisation or service to request information from, considering the following:

- the activity the requesting information sharing entity is seeking to undertake and the type of information that may assist them
- the roles and responsibilities of other information sharing entities and the information they likely hold
- the currency and relevance of the information other information sharing entities are likely to hold.

The ISE requesting the information should provide sufficient detail to enable the responding ISE to make a decision about whether all three parts of the threshold have been met, in order to assist them to:

- identify relevant information to respond to the request
- form an opinion about whether the information may be disclosed under the CISS (whether the disclosure meets the threshold).

When making a request, an ISE may disclose any confidential information that may assist the responding ISE to:

- identify the information they hold that is relevant to the request
- form an opinion on whether the information may be disclosed under the scheme.

If the legal requirements (or threshold) of the scheme are met, an ISE:

- may make requests for information to another ISE
- must disclose relevant information to another ISE, if requested
- may disclose information voluntarily (proactively) to other ISE's

ISE's will use their expertise and exercise their professional judgement to identify:

- the range of needs and risks that impact on a child's life to inform a decision as to whether the threshold is met
- what and how much information to share
- who to share with to support improved service delivery and promote the wellbeing or safety of the child or children.

Making a request or receiving a request under the Family Violence Information Sharing Scheme

Under Part 5A of the Family Violence Protection Act 2008 (FVPA), ISEs may request or share information with other ISEs about a person that is relevant to assessing or managing a family violence risk. The information may relate to a victim survivor (adult or child), alleged perpetrator/perpetrator or third party.

Only information that is relevant to assessing or managing a risk of family violence can be shared under the Scheme. In determining what information is relevant, practitioners should use their professional judgement and refer to the Family Violence Policy.

Where an ISE receives a request, it must share that information, either verbally or in writing, provided that the information meets the requirements (the threshold) of the Scheme. The onus is on the ISE sharing information to ensure that they are disclosing information about a person in accordance with the law. There is no restriction on an ISE making a request.

If there is no existing relationship with the ISE the information is being requested from, verification may need to take place (e.g., by sending an email with the entity's official account).

There are two purposes for which ISEs can share information with each other under the FVPA, Part 5A:

- a. for family violence assessment purposes
 - Only prescribed risk assessment entities (RSE) (see Definition) are entitled to make requests and receive information for a family violence assessment purpose, which focuses on identifying who the 'actual' perpetrator and victim survivor are and establishing the level of risk the perpetrator poses to the victim survivor.

OR

- b. for family violence protection purposes
 - Any prescribed ISE is permitted to request and receive information for a family violence protection purpose. The focus at this stage is about managing the risk of the perpetrator committing family violence or the victim survivor being subjected to family violence. This could include information sharing as part of ongoing risk assessment.

Once it has been established which purpose the information is to be exchanged, ensure that:

- a) sufficient information is provided to the ISE to help them identify what information they hold that might be relevant and whether they should disclose that information.
- b) the purpose of the information is clearly identified and why it is believed the information is relevant
- c) precedence is given to a victim survivor's right to be safe from family violence when discussing relevant information.
- d) record keeping is completed, including the name of the service that was contacted, the name of the ISE and the information that was disclosed.
- e) any risk assessment or safety plan are documented, because of the information sharing.
- f) information is used only for a purpose permitted by law.
- g) if information request is refused, record this refusal in writing and keep this refusal on file.

Sharing information for risk assessment

Once a reasonable belief has been established that family violence risk is present and the identity of the perpetrator or victim survivor/s are clear (e.g., victim survivor has identified the perpetrator), this would enable any ISE to make referrals for specialist services or professionals to complete a comprehensive family violence risk assessment. Some specialist services are prescribed as Risk Assessment Entities (RAEs).

ISEs can proactively share information or on request with RAEs for risk assessment purposes, to:

- confirm whether family violence is occurring
- enable RAEs to assess the level of risk the perpetrator poses to the victim survivor
- correctly identify the perpetrator who is using family violence.

Family violence risk assessment is an ongoing process and is required at different points in time from different service perspectives. Education and care services will have a role in working collaboratively with other services to contribute to ongoing risk assessment and management of family violence.

Victoria State Government, 2021. Information Sharing and Family Violence Reforms Contextualised Guidance. Melbourne, p.38.

SEs can only share information with other ISEs that are not RAEs. Request information from RAEs once family violence risk is established and the identity of the perpetrator and victim survivors are known. This is to prevent sharing that might escalate risk to a child or family member.

Sharing for risk management (protection):

Once family violence is established, ISEs can share proactively with other ISEs and request information, including from RAEs, if they reasonably believe sharing is necessary to:

- remove, reduce, or prevent family violence risk
- understand how risk is changing over time
- inform ongoing risk assessment.

This opens a two-way flow of information that enables ISEs to form a complete picture of risk and collaborate to support children and families experiencing family violence.

Figure 2: Overview of activities when sharing information for risk management (protection)

Victoria State Government, 2021. Information Sharing and Family Violence Reforms Contextualised Guidance. Melbourne, p.39.

When making a request, ensure you are speaking with someone suitably trained to use Part 5A of the Family Violence Protection Act 2008 (FVPA).

Record keeping

ISEs have specific record keeping obligations under the FVISS and the CISS. ISEs can choose how they will meet their record keeping obligations, which might include written or online case notes, specific record keeping forms or IT solutions, and are in line with the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 \(Vic\) and, where applicable, the Australia Privacy Principles obligations.

When an ISE receives a request to share information they must record:

- the ISE that requested the information
- the date of the request
- the information that was requested
- if refusing a request, the request, and the reason why it was refused.

When an ISE shares information (either proactively or on request) they should:

- know and record what scheme they are sharing under (FVISS, CISS or both)
- know and record whom information is being shared about
- record how the threshold for sharing was met.
- relevant risk assessments or safety plans that have been prepared for a person at risk of family violence.

Documentation is also required if sharing about:

- adult victim survivors of family violence or third parties under FVISS (where a child is at risk)

- a child's parent under CISS
- child victim survivors of family violence
- any child to promote their wellbeing or safety.
- whether their views were sought about sharing their information
- if their views were not sought, record the reason why
- if they were informed that their information was shared
- whether information was shared with consent and whether the consent was written, verbal or implied
- if the information was shared without consent, record the reason why
- if the information was shared without consent, record if the person was informed that their information was shared without consent

Examples of record keeping forms can be found at: www.vic.gov.au/guides-templates-tools-for-information-sharing

Handling information sharing and risk assessment complaints under the CISS and FVISS

Types of complaints

ISEs may receive complaints from:

1. Individuals in relation to privacy breaches, for example the ISE has:
 - misidentified an adult victim survivor as a perpetrator and shared information about them without consent
 - shared information that is not relevant to the purpose for which it was shared.
2. Individuals in relation to any other conduct under the Schemes, for example the ISE has:
 - not sought the views of a child and/or relevant family member and the complainant believes it was reasonable, safe, and appropriate to do so
 - in the view of the complainant, failed to foster positive relationships between a child and significant people in the child's life, in the way they applied the Schemes.
3. Other ISEs in relation to how the ISE is sharing information under the Schemes. For example, an ISE may make a complaint about:
 - another ISE refusing to share relevant information that should be shared
 - the timeliness of responses.

Complaints record keeping

The following information must be recorded if a complaint is received under the Schemes:

- date the complaint was made and received
- nature of the complaint
- action taken to resolve the complaint
- action taken to lessen or prevent the issue from recurring
- time taken to resolve the complaint
- if the complaint was not resolved, further action that was taken

Note: accepted standard practice is that a response should be provided within 30 days of receiving the complaint. All complaints must be handling according to the Privacy and Data Protection Act 2014 (Vic) and, where applicable, the Australia Privacy Principles
